THE HICKORY NUT

MAY, 1944

PUBLISHED BY
THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1944
OF HICKORY HIGH SCHOOL
SHARON, PENNSYLVANIA
VOLUME XIV

FOREWORD

In this yearbook we have endeavored to store away a treasure of priceless memories of those whom we shall never forget though miles or years may separate us.

—THE EDITOR.

MRS. JANE MILLER

DEDICATION

We, the graduating class of May, 1944, with sincere appreciation and gratitude dedicate this book to

MRS. JANE MILLER

who has faithfully and patiently directed us through our years at Hickory.

THEME

To build the world of tomorrow will be a momentous task. The world of tomorrow must come from the ruin of today. As we leave Hickory we feel that we have made significant beginning in laying the foundation of the future.

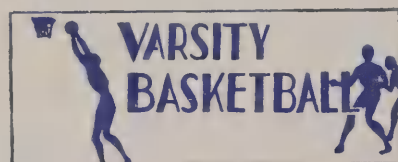

This year brings us closer to that world of tomorrow which will be free from war and desolation. Several from our class have already gone to serve their country. From distant lands we receive letters from members of our Alumni who are doing their very best to restore the peace and happiness which they fervently wish to be everlasting.

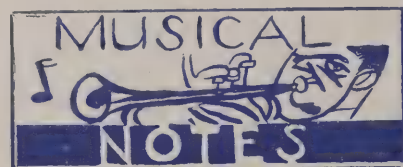

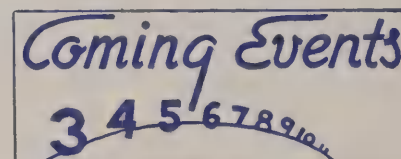

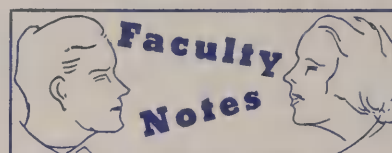

This page is dedicated to the boys and girls, former students of Hickory High School, who have given their lives in the service of their country.

KENNETH R. DELAHUNTY

MR. DELAHUNTY'S MESSAGE

Complaint is often expressed that the present generation has made a mess of things and that it has left a shabby heritage to the generation which is just now coming upon the stage. What have the boys and girls done, it is asked, to deserve the lot which is theirs? The world ravaged by war, a national economy that is unstable, no promise of security. Why have the older men and women, who have controlled the destinies of nations, allowed things to get into such a shape?

The answer is that the older men and women have not controlled destiny. It controlled destiny. It controlled them. They have not shaped the course of things. They have not known how. They have not understood social, economic, and political movements. These can be understood only through education. They did not have the opportunity to study these forces.

Whether young people in school or college actually prepare themselves to control social development or not, they have a chance to do so—a chance which those who are now older never had. A boy or girl slaving in a mill or on a farm has little opportunity to acquire information and inspiration necessary for leadership. A boy or girl in high school does have the chance. If the opportunity is wasted; if youth complains, then fritters time away, doing only what is required in the daily rounds of the schools, it will have something to explain if the next generation complains of a ruined civilization. But keep this in mind: Youth has a chance. It may rebuild a torn down world. It may create a new security, new foundations of happiness—a great opportunity and a profound responsibility.

ADMINISTRATION

MR. HOUCK'S MESSAGE

At the helm tomorrow will be the youth of today. The quality of leadership tomorrow will depend on the quality of preparation today.

The failures of life sit around and complain—they complain that the future looks dark, that our debts will destroy us, that we are headed for destruction, for trouble and that one of these days we will encounter problems which no one can solve.

The future today is no blacker than it always has been. When the Northern Pacific Railway was built west from Minneapolis and St. Paul, the investors who put up the money went out on the first trip of the train over the road. They were afraid that the railroad would fail and hurried home and sold their stock. But the railroad is still running. When Marshall Field built his great store in Chicago, people said the store was too big for the town. But it is one of the world's wonder stores. When Eads built the bridge across the Mississippi at St. Louis there were people who said it would never "pay." Go on through history. The men with little ideas never catch up with the leaders, never understand that the future always seems dire, forbidding.

It's the man who delivers the goods that succeeds and not the one who always complains. Success is the ability to grasp the main chance when it comes; is a thing determined by determination; is an end to be attained not by doing the things we like to do but liking to do the things we have to do; is a thing which you will never come to if you are disturbed by the success of others; is a thing half won if you gain the habit of work.

There are still frontiers to conquer. Make the most of every passing opportunity to prepare yourself to meet the challenge of tomorrow.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Each year the Student Council takes decisive steps in promoting Student Government. The Honor Permit system was used again this year. The Council sponsored the Halloween Party which was enjoyed by everyone who attended. They cooperated with the Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y in sponsoring General Citizenship Campaigns. By buying records they encouraged the interest in dancing and provided entertainment for the students at noon.

Those who seved on the Student Council were:

PRESIDENT MARTHA ASHE
VICE PRESIDENT ROSS MAGARGEE
SECRETARY CAROLINE GILLILAND
TREASURER FRANK RUST

THE CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1944, of Hickory Architectural Institute of America, located in the State of Pennsylvania, being of sound mind, do make this our last will and testament.

FIRST, we, the Senior Class do hereby leave our rooms to the Junior Class.

SECOND, we leave to Mrs. Miller and Miss Bevlyn our comforting words for their sorrow in losing such a spirited class.

THIRD, we, the individuals of the present Senior Class, do hereby will our possessions, both real and personal to the following people who, we feel, are capable of using them to the best advantage.

Sara Aber leaves her "wolf tactics" to David Herr.

Denise Applegate bequeaths her unfinished symphony to Dmitre Shostakovich.

Dorothy Adams leaves a lot of friendship to a certain Junior boy (J. D.)

Russell Arner leaves his ample supply of knowledge to the Junior boys, thinking they will need it.

Martha Ashe bequeaths her last name to some "hot spark."

Ellen Barnes bequeaths her quiet ways to James Hughes.

Dorothy Bartholomew leaves her musical ability to that fine upright character "88 Keys."

Jean Basher leaves her position as editor-in-chief of the Hickory Nut to anyone who wants a lot of work.

Cora Baugh leaves her brother . . . (that's enough).

Sam Bennett leaves his draft-dodging ability to next year's basketball team.

Bill Berg bequeaths his activeness to Kick-A-Poo Vitamin Tablets (one before each meal).

Wilma Bock leaves her musical ability to Mr. Cohen.

Hugh Buchanan bequeaths his height to Bill Horsman.

John Cetine leaves his love for women to Bill Taylor.

Goldie Chadderton leaves her "GOLD" to the United States Treasury, to be invested in War Bonds.

Evelyn Clark bequeaths her bookkeeping ability to Miss Adams.

Marian Dermond leaves her many admirers to the Junior Wolverines.

Dorothy Dobrosky bequeaths her ability to debate to David Cornthwait.

Jane Donaldson leaves her acting ability to "Gypsy Rose Lee."

Norma Earle leaves her P. O. D. knowledge to Gene Sebastian.

Erma Earle bequeaths her last name to some Duke.

Marie Engrao leaves her good voice to Fred Corbett.

Betty Fair leaves her shortness to Miss Peterson.

Caroline Gilliland leaves to go to college to get more knowledge.

Jonell Grande bequeaths her beaming personality to Joyce Robb.

Robert Ferguson leaves his ability to sleep in class to Miss Semple.

Henry Frei leaves his expertness at math to Ralph Hogen.

Wilma Gantz also wants Miss Adams to share in her over-loaded, but super-ability to do book-keeping.

Lawrence Gassner bequeaths his quietness and stern disposition to Bruce Mild.

Delmont Thompson just leaves.

Arada Gibson bequeaths her love to write letters to the boys over there to Regina Kilgore.

Helen Mudrey leaves her position as cheer-leader to Velma Kaluzne.

Gerald Maine leaves his love to write book reports to any darn fool.

John Vodenichar leaves his good looks and ways with girls to George Hunt.

Clarence Long leaves his innocence and philosophical sayings to Joe Molasky.

Doris Miller bequeaths her understanding expression to Dolores Urmson.

Iola Templeton bequeaths her ability to act and debate to Madame Butterfly.

Ernestine Snyder leaves her quiet and conservative ways to Donald Hunter.

Norma Slater bequeaths her office-girl efficiency to next year's office girls.

Pauline Warmoth leaves her ability to tap dance to her partner Wade Dilley.

Ed Lisac bequeaths his dislike to the opposite sex to "Paradise Lost."

Carl McKee leaves his binder (car) to be erected as a monument in the memory of gas rationing.

THE CLASS WILL

Charles Steklacic leaves his name Charles to be replaced by "Chas."

Marjorie Taylor bequeaths her good natured attitude to Jessie Maner.

Irene Pirka leaves her last name to all the Pirka-lators that will be made after the war.

Sally Mild leaves her spontaneous smile to a certain Junior boy.

THE CLASS PROPHECY

Swiftly the giant airliner came down the runway, then gradually slowed until at last we were able to view the passing landscape without that strange, sinking feeling with which everyone is familiar.

Much as we dislike this form of transportation, it was necessary in order to be present at the funeral of our most Honorable Governor, William Frederick Berg. We were grieved, the state was grieved, the nation was deeply grieved.

When we arrived at the Funeral Home we were not at all surprised to find that its director was our former classmate, Maurice O'Leary, James Hamilton capably assisting. Their slogan, "Why go around half dead when we will bury you for $50."

As we quietly took our seats, we were impressed by the beauty and magnificence of the floral decorations supplied by Barnes, Miller, and Chadderton, florists. Gloomy as a funeral may be, Governor Berg's was one that really had the dignity and significance that should surround such an event.

A hush fell over the group as the Reverend Russell Arner slowly entered and began the funeral service. Following the service a beautiful organ solo was rendered by Estelle Perkins.

In the rush toward the cars we were fortunate to obtain seats in the car driven by Mr. Ray E. Osborne, a successful taxidermist, and occupied by his wife, the former Martha Ashe, Mrs. Clyde Rust (Betty Minner), Mrs. John Dillinger (Dorothy Adams), and Mrs. John Walker (Denise Applegate.)

The large crowd at the cemetery consisted of many of our classmates and friends. Among these were: Erma Earle, a capable beautician; Dorothy Jones, skating instructor at Gerald Maine's modern skating rink; Wilma Gantz and Iola Templeton, two of the most promising starlets in Hollywood; Pauline Warmoth, one of the most striking members of the Rockette troupe of Rockefeller Center; Henry Frei, a colossal motion picture producer; James McClimans, the most famous make-up man in Hollywood; Jonell Grande, a buyer for the large department store owned and operated by Carl McKee; and his private secretary, Ernestine Snyder.

Many of the girls of our class are now registered nurses. In this group were Helen Jean Hromyak, Dorothy Zurko, Anna Lou Zahniser, Dorothy Hassell and Sara Aber, who is now married to Rear Admiral William Hawthorne.

Our attention was attracted by two outstanding monuments in the next lot dedicated to John Vodenichar, a successful businessman and his wife, Arada Gibson, who were killed in a tragic auto accident two years ago. Following the winding path we came to another beautifully laid out plot wherein lies Sam Bennett, stunt man extraordinary. Nearby an unusual epitaph carved on white marble designated the resting place of Norma Earle, who met disaster while attempting to swim the English Channel.

Several of the important of Governor Berg's contemporaries who were unable to attend were: Jean Basher, the popular author of sophisticated short stories; Jane Donaldson, currently starring in MGM's "Is This The Army?" and her personal maid, Evelyn Clark; Bonnie "Hot-Licks" Jones, and Joe Grodecki, the Swoon Crooner of the Decade, who are featured with John Mihalcin's swing band; Caroline Gilliland, medical missionary in Darkest Africa, who is bravely carrying on since the death of her husband, which was largely due to being boiled in a pot by African cannibals; Bill Lenarcic, fashionable men's clothier; Marian Zipay, modern dress designer; Delmont Thompson and Dorothy Dobrosky, brilliant criminal lawyers; Charles Steklacic, cartoonist who believes all he needs is a uniform.

After the services we returned to our hotel to decide what to do with the time left. Meanwhile, it had occurred to us that we'd like a copy of the Hickory Leaf, and so we rang for the bellhop. Imagine our surprise when Clarence Long appeared! He was now the general manager of the hotel in which we were staying. He had happened to notice our names on the register and therefore had seized the first opportunity of seeing us. As we glanced through the newspaper we discovered a name on the sports page that was very familiar. Jack Simpson of 44's basketball team was now the coach of Driftwood College. Since Clarence informed us that several members of our class were located at the College and in the surrounding territory, we made plans to visit it in the morning.

Bright and early the next morning we hailed a cab and who should be behind the wheel but Hugh Buchanan. During the short journey we were proud to note as we passed, the Ed. Lisac Fruit Farm; the Lawrence Gassner Poultry Farm; the Abram Merchant Truck Farm; and Frank Rust Dairy Farm; all of which were obviously prospering. Finally we arrived at Driftwood College. As we entered the Administration Building we recognized the watchman, Martin Lee. Naturally the Dean's office was our objective. Here, we were received by Ann Vanko, secretary to the Dean. The typist in the office was Ann Radkowski, world's fastest typist.

THE JUNIORS

CLASS HISTORY

Just think, they're Juniors already! Why I can remember when they were Greenies! It doesn't seem so long ago, does it? But as the saying goes "Time Marches On."

It is now 1944 A.D. and the Juniors of Hickory High School are preparing themselves to become the Seniors of '45. They have gotten down to brass tacks and gone to work. Not only in studies, but by getting their class organized.

At the beginning of this year they elected as their class officers the following: President, Joe Horzich; vice-president, Maxine Plake; secretary, Frances Christy; treasurer, Bill Fair.

Class rings were chosen which they naturally say are the "best."

The milk committee was appointed and the year got under way.

Student Council members were Joe Molasky, Ross Margargee and Bill Snyder.

In Hi-Y, Bill Fair held the office of vice-president; Bill Snyder, secretary; and Bill Taylor, treasurer. Jack Dillinger was secretary of F. F. A. and Maxine Plake was president of the first year Spanish Club.

Many Juniors were interested in music as proven by their participation in chorus and the band.

One of our peppy cheerleaders was Velma Kaluzne from the Junior class. Nora Murray and Joan Love were high-stepping majorettes.

Our varsity had several Juniors on their roll. Joe Molasky, Gene Smith, Bill Fair, Jack Dillinger, Bill Brown and Jim Kilgore all saw action.

There's no doubt in our minds that this class will make good, and will be worthy of the name "Seniors." We wish you lots of luck for your next and most important year in high school.

THE SOPHOMORES

CLASS HISTORY

L Can you remember when the Sophomores of 1944 were mere freshies? I can remember their big eyes filled with despair as they drifted through the halls looking for their classes. As I recall, after getting acquainted with the ways and means of our school, they started doing things. They had as home room presidents: Rose Marie Stefanick, Ernest Demofonte, and Marge Hvozda.

Now as upperclassmen, they have become an even more active class, and I do mean active.

They started the year off by electing the following home room presidents: Rose Marie Stefanick, Shirley Dufford and Fred Jones; and as vice-president, Ruth Vanesky. Serving as secretaries were Helen Vodenichar, Phyllis McClimans and Anna Mae Chupak. Treasurers were: Bill Williams, Ruth Long, and Phyllis McClimans.

Representing them on Student Council were Jacqueline Urban and Donald McKay.

Several members of this class held high offices in the school's various clubs. In Jr. Tri-Hi-Y, Emily Rombold held the office of president, assisted by Roberta Carringer, Betty Ehenger and Marge Hvozda. Maynard Swanson was consul of the first year Latin Club. Ray Kiefer was treasurer of F. F. A.

I can just see George Hunt and his trumpet, Maynard Swanson and his sax, and Alvin Rodewalt at the piano beating out the boogie.

Two more of our pretty, peppy majorettes were Ruth Addis and Margaret Saunders.

Helping to back up our team was Phyllis McClimans as cheerleader.

Several of the fellows, Don McKay, Ray Kiefer, Aulton Gibson, and Richard Buchanan were on the Junior Varsity with Joe Duich as basketball manager for the Senior Varsity.

Rose Marie Stefanick was assistant manager of the magazine campaign.

All in all this Sophomore class was really an industrious one. May their interest and school spirit enlarge in the coming years.

THE FRESHMEN

CLASS HISTORY

Are you sure they're in high school? They look awfully small to be Freshmen. These were the rumors spreading around the first day of school in September, 1943, about Hickory High's new recruits. Of course, these were the upper classmen talking.

As time went by they seemed to grow! Maybe it was because we became accustomed to them. Could be!

The new recruits were divided into three troops. Their respective housing quarters were Barracks No. 15, Barracks No. 12, and Barracks No. 10, with Miss Hildebrand, Miss Peterson and Miss Artman as commanding officers.

Immediately they went into action by electing their individual troop officers. They were as follows: Bks. No. 15—President, Fred Boles; vice-president, Robert Fentress; secretary, James Hughes; treasurer, Bill Bogolin; Bks. No. 12—President, Jerry Moody; vice-president, Ed Krichko; secretary, Donna McBride; treasurer, Naomi Hunter; Bks. No. 10—President, Rose Marie Quarterson; vice-president, Dorothy Zaggar; secretary, Joyce Robb; treasurer, Richard Taylor.

To represent their entire division, they choose Wayne Johnson to stand up for their rights in Student Council.

Pickens DeVenney was one of our pretty, peppy majorettes.

This newest addition to our school also proved to be an athletic one. Bill Bogolin, Don Rust and Ed Krichko played on the Junior Varsity. In gym classes, the girls also played a good game of basketball.

Being versatile many of them belonged to the Freshman Chorus and our band.

As this school year draws to a close, the Freshman Class of 1944 has convinced us that they are an active and ambitious group. We wish you all the luck in the world for your coming years as upperclassmen.

SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS STAFF

"Is this the Thursday that the Hickory Leaf comes out?" someone asked among a group of students walking to class.

Yes, we the staff did do our best to publish a Hickory Leaf every two weeks. At the beginning of the term, we naturally had a little trouble getting organized, but once we got going, everything went smoothly. We were each given a definite article to write up, or assigned so many stencils to type.

The staff elected Jack Simpson as editor and Irwin McCullough as assistant editor. Under the capable management of Miss Hildebrand and Miss Semple as faculty advisers, we put out our school newspaper, "The Hickory Leaf."

Not only did we work on our newspaper, but we put out our pride and joy, our school annual, "The Hickory Nut."

As in the "Leaf," the members of the staff were given individual assignments to be turned in at a certain date. Although we did do some work, including advertising, taking pictures, etc., most of the credit should go to our editor, Jean Basher; assistant editor, Charles Steklacic, who enlisted in the Navy at mid-term, and who designed the cover for our Hickory Nut; our business manager, Dorothy Hassell; and our faculty adviser, Miss Marian Hildebrand.

We hope everyone enjoyed reading our publications as much as we did putting them out.

 FOURTH ROW—L. Keene, J. Mihalcin, M. Dermond.

THE SPANISH CLUB

The meetings which were held bi-monthly were opened by repeating the club's motto and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner in Spanish.

Throughout the year programs were held in which reviews were given on the customs of various Spanish speaking countries. All members enjoyed playing games and singing songs in Spanish.

The second year class entertained the first year students with a very colorful fiesta program.

Activities of the group included several dinners and the annual banquet.

Motto of the second year group was "Siempre Amigos" (Always Friends). Officers were: President, Cora Baugh; vice president, Jonell Grande; secretary, June Shook; treasurer, Marian Dermond. First year group motto, "Manana es otra dias" (Tomorrow is another day) officers were president, Maxine Plake; secretary-treasurer, Bonnie Jones; reporter, Shirley Robb.

THE SENIOR TRI-HI-Y

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y was advised by Miss Charlotte Semple this year. It was very active in aiding girls to live a four-fold life. The meetings were exceptionally well-planned and each meeting was devoted to a special purpose.

A series of special campaigns were sponsored including a General Citizenship Campaign. They also sponsored a Valentine Dance and had charge of the Easter Assembly.

The officers who served were: President, Estelle Perkins; vice president, Cora Baugh; secretary, Jean Basher; treasurer, Shirley Robb.

FIRST ROW—Miss Peterson, I. McGinnis, W. McConnell, R. Kloss, R. Addis, E. Hogue, F. Rogers, V. Lewis.

THE JUNIOR TRI-HI-Y

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y cooperated with the Senior Tri-Hi-Y in engaging in good sportsmanship, friendliness, cleanliness, courtesy and other traits of the Four-Fold Tri-Hi-Y Code. They presented the Thanksgiving assembly.

They were capably advised by Miss Neva Peterson. Their officers were: President, Emily Rombold; vice president, Roberta Carringer; secretary, Betty Ehenger; treasurer, Margaret Hvozda.

FIRST ROW—Mr. Ritter, B. Fair, B. Snyder, J. Vodenichar, B. Taylor.

FIFTH ROW—G. Sebastian, J. Cetine, J. Simpson, G. Smith, S. Bennett.

THE HI-Y

At the beginning of the term Hi-Y members elected as their officers, John Vodenichar, president; Bill Fair, vice president; Bill Snyder, secretary; Bill Taylor, treasurer.

The platform of the Hi-Y, which is Clean Speech, Clean Scholarship, and Clean Living, was exercised throughout the year in the Bible Study Contest and in the Clean Speech and Clean-Up Campaigns.

The members did an excellent job of ushering and selling ice cream at the games. They also directed traffic at the parking lot for various activities held at the school.

The outstanding event of the year was the annual party for the Tri-Hi-Y.

Hi-Y adviser—Mr. William Ritter.

FIRST ROW—M. Lee, H. Osborne, R. Kiefer, H. Buchanan, F. Rust, J. Dillinger, W. Hawthorne, Mr. Enterline.

THE F. F. A.

At the close of the 1942-43 school term new officers elected for the term of 1943-44 were: President, Frank Rust; vice president, Hugh Buchanan; secretary, Jack Dillinger; reporter, Harvey Osborne; watch dog, Bill Hawthorne.

During the summer the chapter took high honors in judging at the Stoneboro Fair, placing 3 in livestock and 5 in dairy. They also helped at the organization of the Berkshire Breeders Association of Mercer County. There are six boys in the chapter who own pure bred Berkshire.

After the beginning of the 1943-44 school term the chapter took an active part in the Scrap Drive and in the erecting of the Hickory Township Honor Roll. The boys were excused from their classes to help the farmers in harvesting.

The boys are also doing their best to aid the war effort.

Adviser—Mr. Enterline.

FIRST ROW—Miss Artman, D. Thompson, F. Christy, R. Arner, Miss Bevlyn.

SECOND ROW—Miss Peterson, A. Gibson, D. Applegate, S. Aber, E. Perkins, Miss Overall.

THIRD ROW—K. Auld, J. Mogor, A. Vanko, S. Kulbak, M. Dermond.

FOURTH ROW—Mr. Houck, J. Vodenichar, J. Horzich, R. Bentley.

THE SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club which was organized this year is the only honorary club at Hickory High. All members must have four semesters of science and a B average in science subjects.

Meetings are held twice a month, day meetings which are a part of the regular class period, are held on the first Tuesday of the month and night meetings are held on the third Thursday.

Officers were Russell Arner, president; Dick Robins, vice president; Frances Christy, secretary-treasurer; Delmont Thompson, program chairman.

The purposes of the Science Club are to develop an interest in science among the students and teachers, encourage scientific research, further the knowledge of the members in all fields of science, act in cooperation with other science clubs of America, and to foster a friendly relationship among all the members of the organization.

Activities of the club are movies, lectures, research work and experiments in all branches of science.

Club advisers—Miss Bevlyn, Miss Artman.

FIRST ROW—Miss Everall, L. Morgan, B. Thompson, G. Pears, J. Robb, J. Lewis, R. Albanese.

THE JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

The first and second year Latin class members were also members of the Jr. Classical League, a national organization introduced at Hickory five years ago.

Bi-monthly meetings were held during the class periods and some very interesting programs were carried out. Officers of the second year group were as follows: George Hunt, first consul; Gene Sebastian, second consul; Nora Murray, scribe, and Dick Robins, quaestor. In the first year group those holding office were Maynard Swanson, first consul; Donald McKay, second consul; Shirley Dufford, scribe; and Marjorie Dermond, quaestor.

In the course of the year, many club functions were carried on. Those most outstanding were the bake sale, Valentine party, and the annual banquet. In December a Christmas party was held.

THE BAND AND ORCHESTRA

This year the Band and Senior Orchestra have been organized under a system of merits and de-merits. This enables members with sufficient merits to become eligible for band letters in their Junior year and jackets in their Senior year. Money was raised to pay for them by holding concerts, marching at parades, paying dues, and various other ways.

Elections were held and the officers were as follows: Senior manager, Estelle Perkins; secretary, Dorothy Hassel; treasurer, Joan Dermond; quartermaster, Marian Dermond; business and efficiency manager, Dick Robins; enrollment clerk, John Banjak; librarians, Wilma Bock, Barbara Schaffer and Denise Applegate. During the year the Band played for assemblies and basketball games, gave a concert at Camp Reynolds and held their annual spring music festival. Their main social affair was a banquet held in the spring when letters and jackets were given out.

Hickory was represented by six members at Mid-Western Band, which was held at Ellwood City, Pennsylvania, on February 17, 18, 19. Those who attended were Estelle Perkins, Fred Boles, Ellen Horner, Wilma Bock, Denise Applegate and Alvin Rodewalt.

In addition to these accomplishments a service flag was made and dedicated to those former band members who are now in the armed services.

THE SENIOR CHORUS

The Senior Chorus is comprised of seventy upper class boys and girls who sing four-part harmony. From this group were chosen quartets, trios, and other ensembles for special programs. Many of the group were soloists.

Rehearsals were held three times a week on the stage. This year the Senior Chorus sent a large number of representatives to the Midwest District Chorus which was held April 13, 14, and 15 at Farrell High School. Those selected had the opportunity to work under the direction of Noble Cain, famous choral conductor from Chicago.

THE GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club consisted this year of sixty girls who sang two and three-part harmony. Rehearsals were held twice a week on the stage. Those who qualify will be selected as members of next year's Senior Chorus. Fundamentals of choral work were stressed, although plenty of time was reserved for purely recreational singing.

Both the Senior Chorus and the Glee Club took part in the annual Minstrel show given in April. This production gave opportunities to talented students to entertain the public.

VARSIITY BASKETBALL

FRANK RUST - - - Senior - - - Forward

The high-scorer of the year, Frankie was counted on to carry a major portion of the offense. Fast and a dead shot, his scoring power was a threat throughout the season.

JOE GRODECKI - - - Senior - - - Forward

Good-natured Joe was one of the boys who seldom missed practice. Although he didn't score much, his ability to pass into scoring plays was a great asset.

GENE SMITH - - - Junior - - - Center

Big and rugged describes Smitty; dumping in points when they were needed and covering all rebounds that came near him. Gene was always in the midst of the game.

DELMAR ROBB - - - Senior - - - Center

In his first year on the varsity Delmar played every position on the floor and all of them well. One of the hardest working players on the squad. Robb never loafed and could be depended on to turn in a good game.

JOE MOLASKY - - - Junior - - - Guard

Moe had a hard time getting started but he was a holy terror once in action. A hard worker and lover of fast plays, Joe usually got tired about the second quarter. Next year should be his best.

OUR MAJORETTES

NORA MURRAY

RUTH ADDIS

ELAINE LAYMAN

NAOMI HUNTER

MARGARET SAUNDERS

Marched at the half of every home game.

HUGH BUCHANAN - - - Senior - - - Guard

The jumping jack of the team, Soup's ability to take the rebounds off the board pulled more than one game out of the fire. Although he was new at the start, he was one of the coolest boys on the squad.

BILL FAIR - - - Junior - - - Forward

Being small was no handicap to Bill who made up for it by good shooting and his swiftness. His ability to play a good substitute should make him a regular next year.

JIM KILGORE - - - Junior - - - Forward

Brought up from the Junior Varsity in mid-season, Tally won everyone's admiration for his spirit and clever ball-handling. This fight and determination should land him a starting assignment next year.

JACK DILLINGER - - - Junior - - - Guard

Fast and hard was Jackson's style of playing. Jack turned into a good player even though he did not have much experience.

BILL BROWN - - - Junior - - - Guard

Bill's first year on the varsity showed his capacity and ability to learn. Although he didn't see much action, he turned into a steady and consistent ball-player.

JACK SIMPSON - - - Senior - - - Forward

Simp was one of the tallest boys on the team. He was a co-captain. Proved his ability for good passing during the season. A smooth player.

JOHN CETINE - - - Senior - - - Forward

"Porky" to his teammates, blonde-haired Johnny was one of the best-liked players on the squad. Cetine gave his best and was seldom discouraged. His incessant talk kept the moral at a high pitch.

SAM BENNETT - - - Senior - - - Guard-Co-Capt.

Fun-loving Sam was out for a good time but was serious on the floor. This keen competitive spirit and will to win pulled the team through many times. Small but fast, Sammy liked to see everybody run.

AULTON GIBSON - - - Guard - - - Sophomore

Came up from Jr. Varsity in mid-season, liked to shoot long shots and sunk them in too! We are looking forward to seeing him again next year.

THE JUNIOR VARSITY

The Junior Varsity kept the ball rolling before the main game. They are the boys we'll be hoping to see in the coming season's games. Ralph Eckelberger and Carl Pears coached the boys and did a swell job. For many of the boys this was the first year of playing and they met many more experienced teams and came through with flying colors.

RAY KEIFER	ROLAND BENTLEY	LEONARD KRICHKO
ED. KRICHKO	HOWARD MOORE
JOE DUICH	AUSTIN MURRAY	JOHN ANDERSON
BOB BURDICK	KENNETH KILGORE

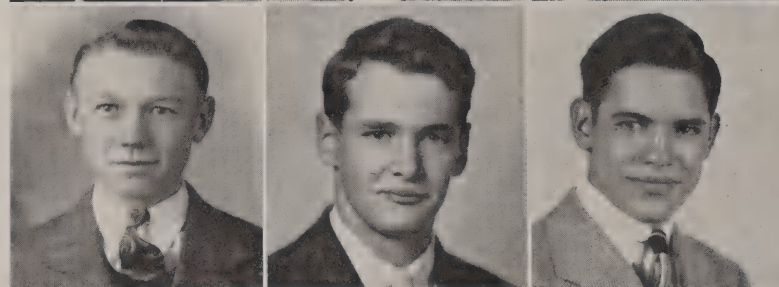

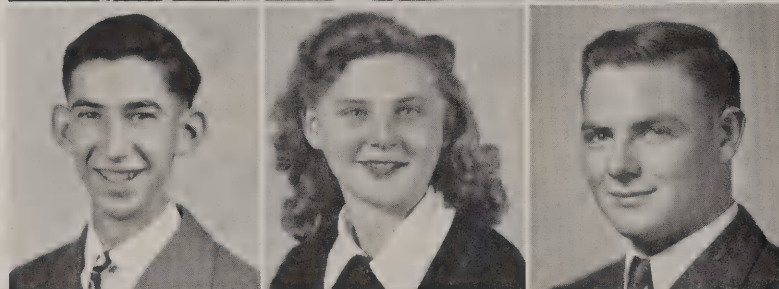

THE MANAGERS

These fellows were always on the job to help the team whenever possible. To have everything in top condition was their aim. They kept the locker room and health room neat and orderly. Bill Berg acted as score-keeper, with Joe Duich and James Kilgore as assistant managers.

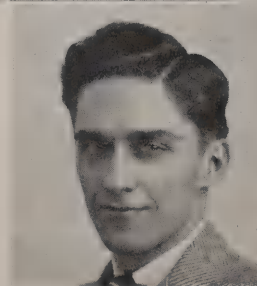

Dramatics

"Best
Foot
Forward"

"BEST FOOT FORWARD"

What was that noise we heard emitted from the High School Auditorium on the night of November 23, 1943? That's right—applause! Laughter! For the Senior Class, under the direction of Mrs. Jane Miller, gave their interpretation of "Best Foot Forward."

The setting for the play was a room in the boys dormitory of Winssocki Prep School. The room was shared by Bud Hooper and his two roommates, Dutch Miller and Hunk Hoyt. Bud after seeing a show starring Gale Joy, wrote her a letter asking her for a date to the Winssocki Senior Prom. About a week later Gale writes a letter accepting Bud's invitation because she needed the publicity it would bring. The climax of the play occurred when the boys deserted the girls to dance with a beautiful movie star, and the girls decided to have a souvenir from her. A near riot occurred when they all started to tear her apart for souvenirs. Dr. Reeber, principal of the school, tried to rite the situation by expelling Bud Hooper from school, but Gale Joy and her manager Jack, arranged it so that Dr. Reeber was forced to allow him to stay.

While all the excitement was going on, the "blind date" was also at her best, at keeping the audience laughing during the whole performance.

The ending of the play was colossal!

Gale Joy was elected queen of the Winssocki Senior Prom and she was also offered a movie contract. Bud and Helen and all the other fellows and girls were together again; even the Blind Date got her man.

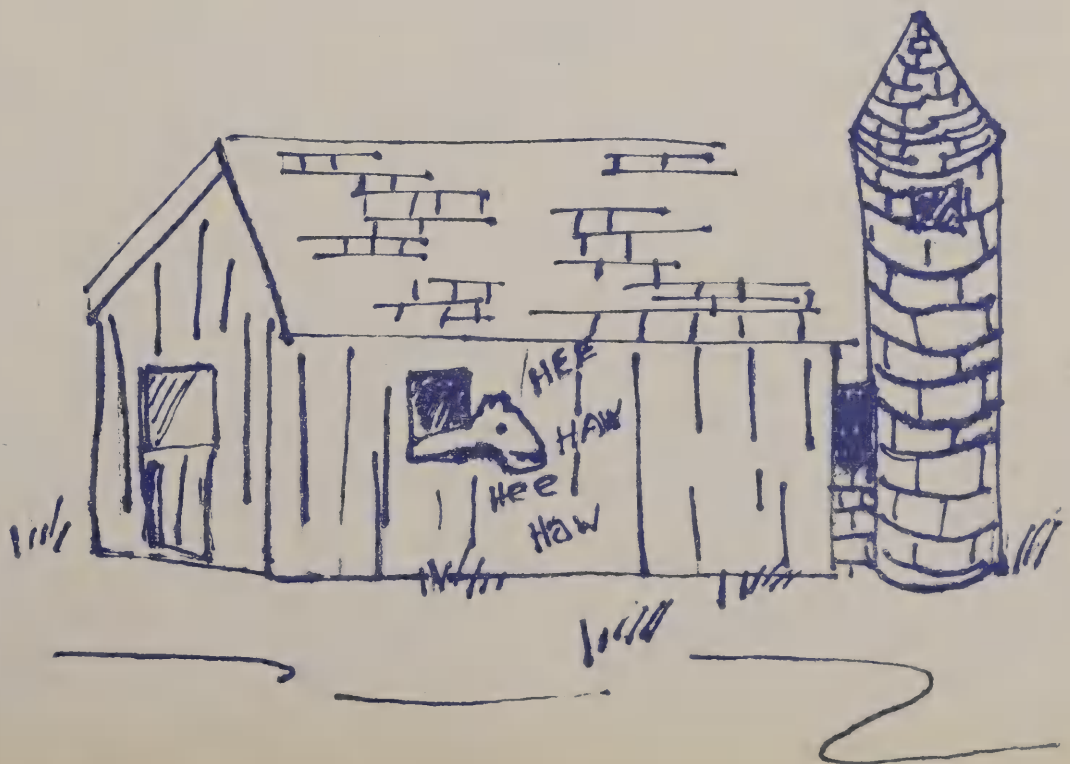

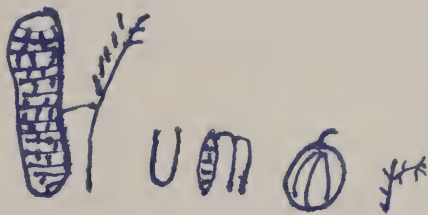

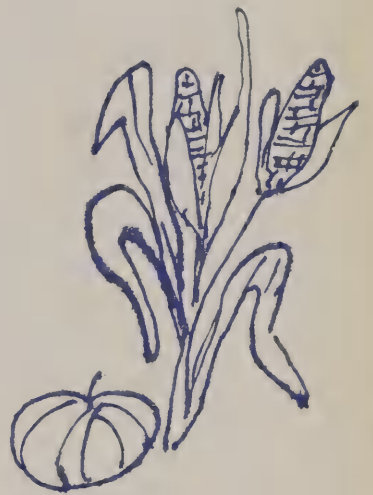

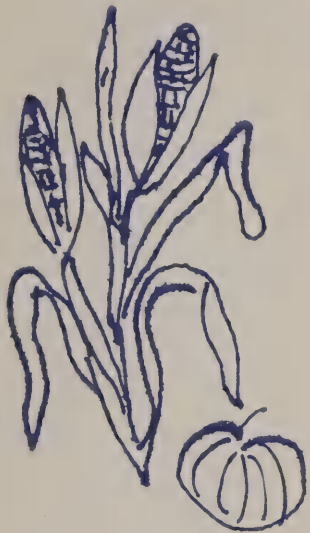

The play scored a great hit—young and old alike enjoyed it.

The cast included the following personnel:

Congratulations... Class of '44

For a battle won. . . . Victory of life is a succession of such well earned merits. May your future adventures be as fruitful.

The Electric industry, too, has had its adventures and successes. It has had a test in the battle of war production and has made its mark. Tomorrow it will be engaged in post-war projects. That will be your day. From your generation will come the leaders of this free American enterprise. While you prepare, we will continue to build upward the electrical standards of living that will help to make America the best place on earth to live and work.

OUR CLASS

(With profuse apologies to Joyce Kilmer's "Trees")

We're sure the school will never see,

A class as wonderful as we;

A class with grades that can't be beat (?)

A class with girls so nice and sweet.

A class with boys so big and strong.

A class that does nothing that's wrong.

Now classes come and also go,

First 5 minutes—Looks for himself in pictures and activities.

Second 5 minutes—Does the same for his girl's.

Third 5 minutes—Hunt up every joke on himself or his girl.

Fourth 5 minutes—Looks at all these again and shuts book forever.

Then has the nerve to say that the Annual isn't as good as it should be.

The Dean, Miss June Shook, gave us a guide, Ralph Hollibaugh, Union 7369, to take us through the school. In addition to Jack Simpson, we found among the faculty, Dorothy Bartholomew, Home Economics Instructor; Delmar Robb and John Cetine, Aviation Specialists; Wilma Bock, Director of Music; Cora Baugh, English mentor; and Irwin McCullough, head of Vocational Agriculture Department.

We were amused to meet Robert Ferguson in the hall where he informed us that he had reached the limit of his endurance, after ten years he still hadn't gotten his degree, and he was beginning to think there was a catch to this college business.

After all this exertion, we felt the need for refreshment and started out in quest of food. As we left the Campus, we met Frank Hast, super salesman of vacuum cleaners, who directed us to the famous Dermond restaurant where we were greeted by the owner, Marian Dermond, and her assistant, Lois Keene. The hostess, Helen Mudrey, led us to one of the best tables where Wilma Parker attended to our every need. During the delicious meal we noticed Mr. Ray Stainbrook, mechanic, and Mrs. Stainbrook (Ruth Lilly) with Mary Herr, needlework expert, among the patrons of the restaurant.

Fifteen minutes being all the time we had to make our plane, we hurried out of the restaurant and into a taxi parked at the curb. Cab-driving seemed to be a popular vocation, for Norma Slater was the competent pilot of the one which we now occupied. During the rapid, 35 m.p.h. drive to the airport, we girls chatted about this and that. Norma had been in contact with quite a few of the members of our class and passed some of the more interesting gossip along to us.

IDENTIFIED WITH THE SHENANGO VALLEY'S

PROGRESS SINCE 1873

Neva Geiwitz and Marjorie Jarrett are both happily married; Francis Seiple was a dashing transport pilot; Irene Pirka had realized every girl's ambition, that of being an airline hostess; Marjorie Taylor, Kathryn Hollibaugh, and Sally Mild were successful career women right in their own home town; while Marie Engrao, Ruth Pears and Olga Kosty were co-owners of an exclusive Dress Shoppe in New York.

Dashing into the airport, we just caught the 1:30 plane. As the plane rose into the air we felt tired but contented. Nothing is more satisfying than picking up the threads of old friendships and gaining new ones.
